

An aerial photograph of a city, likely Rome, is shown with several thick, parallel pink diagonal stripes crossing it from the top-left to the bottom-right. The stripes are evenly spaced and cover the entire image. The city below is a dense grid of buildings and streets. In the upper-middle section, the text 'AP<sub>2</sub>' is printed in a bold, black, sans-serif font. In the lower-middle section, the text 'AP<sub>3</sub>' is printed in a similar bold, black, sans-serif font. The bottom-left corner of the image shows a white, irregular shape, possibly a piece of paper or a cutout, partially obscuring the map. The overall image has a vintage, slightly grainy quality.
